

UK LAW ENFORCEMENT

Assuring value and securing execution of a detailed target operating model in UK law enforcement.

Background

An explosion of alternative approaches and an absence of effective architectural support led to a number of critical deficiencies in the detail design of our clients target operating model.

Approach

Through the adoption of a structured approach to its completion, we identified and addressed gaps and rectified known design issues.

Working in a heavily constrained environment, Reply deployed a multidisciplinary team spanning business architecture, business analysis and process modelling specialists to expedite the projects delivery.

Results

A single integrated design was defined and captured across five inter-dependent specifications supported by a single overarching design brief. This enabled the target model to be communicated, reviewed and approved for future implementation.
